

tered, he might have been lifted from a bad position if his support had kept its feet.

In the eighth, when Bush tripled, Cobb doubled and Crawford repeated, faster fielding by Fournier and John Collins might have kept away one of the runs. In the ninth, on a roller to Russell, neither Brief nor Eddie Collins covered first base and the pitcher's toss went to right field and the runner raced to third.

Detroit looks very good this spring, but some of their brilliance is undoubtedly due to comparison with the down-headed ball the Sox were playing.

Today the Cubs have their first game away from home, playing St. Louis. Bresnahan will be lucky and satisfied if he comes home with a fifty-fifty record. He will be going against opposition of little power, fortunately, but games aren't won with-

BRIEF

Bunny Brief, White Sox First Baseman, Who Has Been Playing a Strong Game for the South Siders. He Makes His Local Debut Today